

Join us!

We invite You to submit Your proposals for papers written in English and to participate in our study exchange programme as well as in meetings of lawyers specialising in the law of culture and art.

The Editors

About us

Our bi-annual journal edited by Kazimierz Wielki University will accept and publish papers written by Polish and foreign authors. The programme committee is composed of scholars representing Polish universities as well as scholars from universities in Croatia, Great Britain, Portugal, Spain and Ukraine. Each even-numbered issue of the journal will be published in English and each odd-numbered issue will be published in Polish. The on-line version will be available from the archives hosted by Kazimierz Wielki University and from unabridged international databases.

Our standards

In order to observe the rules of the academic world, including the principle of fair play, and to ensure the highest standard of papers to be published, a procedure guaranteeing the authenticity of academic papers has been implemented. Authors are requested to complete a declaration in the submission form which will serve as a ghostwriting and guest authorship firewall. In the double-blind review process neither the authors' nor the reviewers' identity shall be revealed.

Santander Universidades Project

The Santander Art and Culture Law Review project is carried out within the framework of individual grants provided by Santander Universidades and follows the pro-cultural policy of the Santander Group as well as the Santander Universidades programme. The journal and its panel of experts in art and culture law will promote an international exchange of expertise and an active participation of the Santander Group in the dissemination of culture in the academic world. As a forum for international discourse, the journal will contribute to the development of unique research workshops upon which cross-disciplinary research programmes will be based.
